Hui Ching Hsu, pianist, hails from Taipei, Taiwan where she graduated" Top of the class, 1997" from the famed Soochow University. Shortly after, she was awarded a full scholarship to study with Susan Starr at the Florida International University. Her primary chamber music coach at FIU was Keith Robinson, cellist of the renowned Miami String Quartet.

Presently, Ms. Hsu serves as staff accompanist at the Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts. She held the same post at the Hugh A. Glauser School of Music, Kent State University from 2004-2011. In addition to being a regular collaborator in the studios of Keith Robinson, violinists Cathy Meng Robinson and Ivan Chan, Ms. Hsu was much in demand with the vocal and wind/brass departments during her tenure at Kent State. She has performed in the masterclasses of Jaime Laredo, Sharon Robinson, Cathy Meng Robinson, Ivan Chan, Paul Neubauer and Yuri Bashmet.
