Yu-Fang Chen, violin/viola, a graduate of Taipei National University of The Arts, is currently a member of the Wisconsin Chamber Orchestra. Ms. Chen is the winner of the 2001 Commemorative Violin competition of Professor Cuei-lun Dai, the 2005 Kansas City Medical Arts Symphony Concerto competition, the 2007 Naftzger competition, the 2009 UMKC Concerto/Aria competition and the Philharmonia of Greater Kansas City Concerto competition. Ms. Chen is also a recipient of the 2008 Mu Phi Epsilon Scholarship audition, and the 2008 and 2009 Kansas City Musical Club Fellowship. As a soloist, she has performed with the Academy of Taiwan Strings, the Kansas City Medical Arts Symphony, the Philharmonia of Greater Kansas City and UMKC Conservatory Orchestra.

As an enthusiastic performer of chamber music and orchestral music, Yu-Fang Chen has been invited by the Mimir Chamber Music Festival, National Taiwan Symphony Orchestra, Festival Symphony Orchestra, Taiwan Youth Orchestra, and National Symphony Orchestra, and her performance career has taken her to Southeast Asia, Russia, South Africa, Estonia, Germany, Finland, France and the United States. Ms. Chen is also a Doctor of Musical Arts candidate at UMKC Conservatory in violin under the tutelage of Benny Kim, and in viola with Scott Lee.